

*The twelve poodle puppies all enjoyed a ton of fun,
Performing in their talent show since the day it had begun.
As the talent show was now complete, and each puppy did their best,
They decided to reward themselves with a day of well earned rest.
They lounged around and enjoyed a fabulous spa day,
While contemplating what could be their next fun day of play.*

*They thought about the park, but they'd been there times before.
And then one poo recalled a place he knew they'd all adore.
As he pointed at a picture in a super duper book,
Each and every poodle ran right up to take a look.*

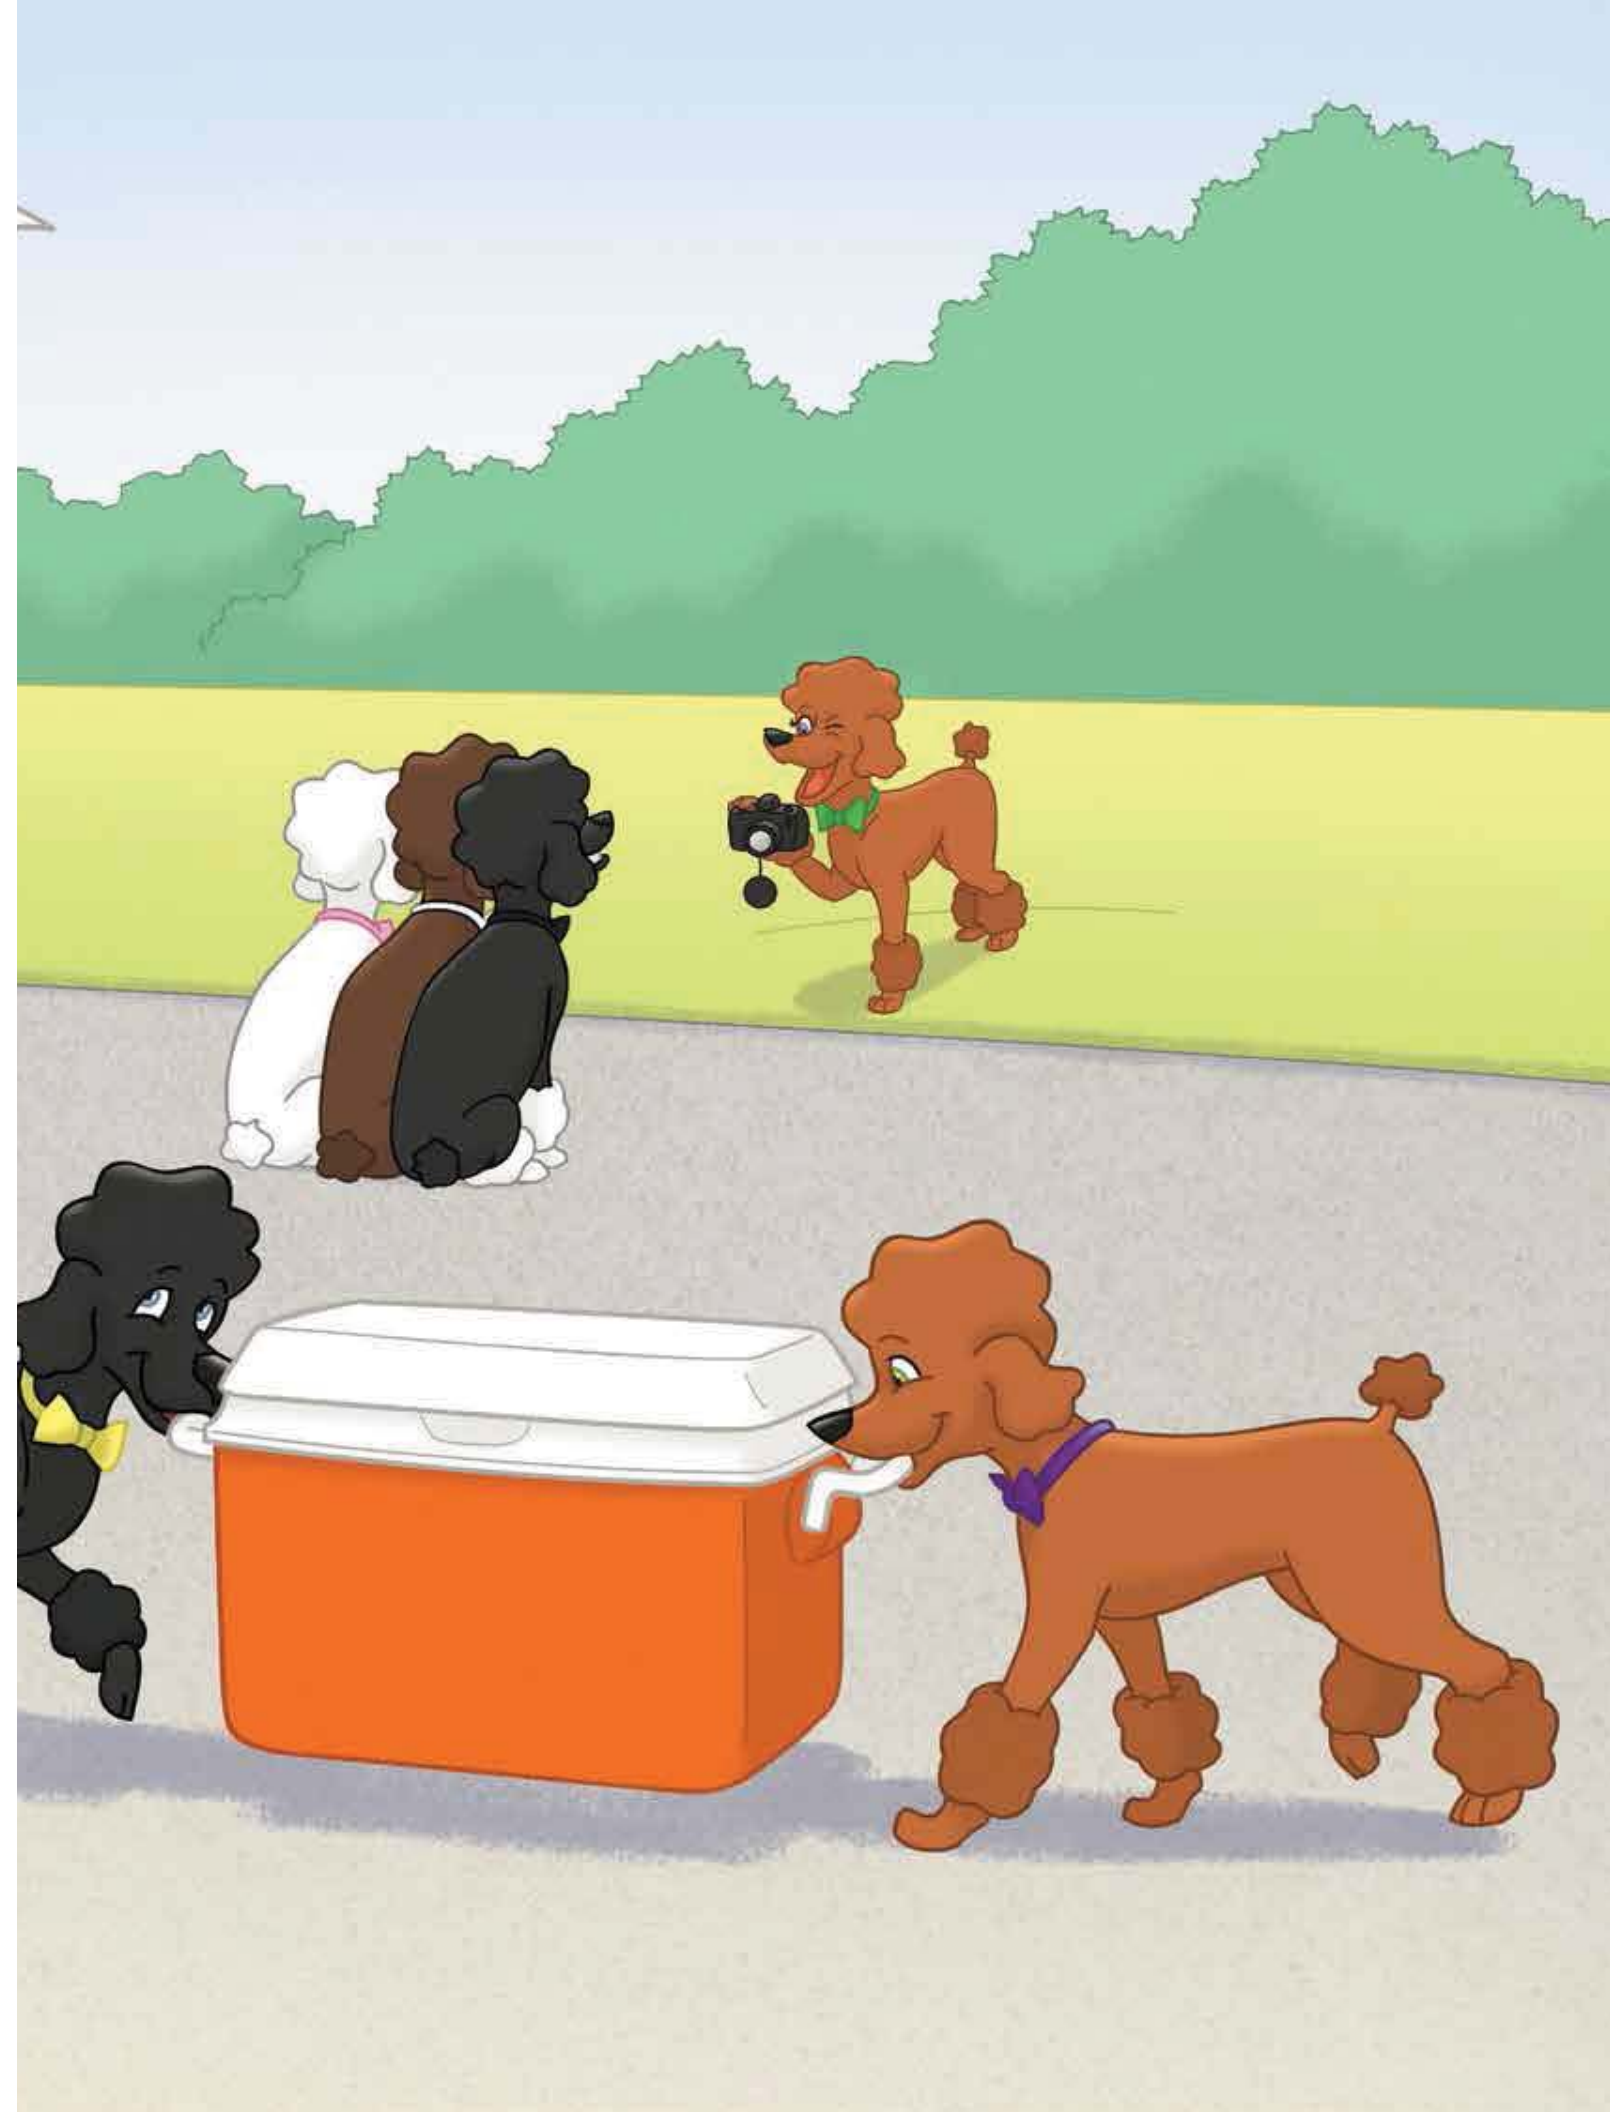

*Questions filled the room as the poodles stared with glee,
"Who are they, what are they, why don't they look like me?"
They browsed through out the pages,
and viewed creatures big and small,
Some were short and really fat,
and some were thin and tall!*

*Have you guessed their next fun outing,
what next these poos will do?*

It's off on an excursion to the great place called the zoo!

The poo pups packed a hearty lunch, so they wouldn't miss a meal.
They buckled up and headed off, with the red poo at the wheel.

So, off they drove in the poo mobile,
with a smile on each pups face.
To seek a new adventure in a creature kind of place!
